Methodology

This survey was conducted from October 27 to 29, 2021, among 611 registered voters in Virginia weighted to reflect both the Likely Electorate in the November 2021 general election and the overall registered voter population. The survey was conducted via texting to cell phones sampled from the Virginia voter file (368 interviews) and web panels matched to the voter file (243 interviews). Two sets of weights were used to match targets for the Likely Electorate (LE) and registered voters (RV), derived from the voter file and Census data using Echelon's Demographic Engine platform and a 2021 general election turnout model with inputs from the 2013 and 2017 general elections. Variables used in weighting include gender, race, age, education, region, turnout score buckets, which party primary a voter has voted in, and 2020 general election vote method.

This poll was conducted independently and paid for by Echelon Insights.
